Cardiac worries for DU students

NEW DELHI: Students at the Delhi University are a worried lot. The cause of their worry is their cardi-ological health.

About 157 students got free health check-ups done on day one of a health camp organised at the Hindu College by Max Healthcare and Old Students' Association, Hindu College.

"I got my ECG done and also got my blood pressure taken.

Since we eat a lot of junk food, I wanted to be on the safer side," said Aadya Dogra, a student of Kirori Mal College.

The most sought-after tests were cardiograms, blood pres-ure tests, sugar tests and tests for stress.

The camp was organised by Professor Dinesh Singh, vice-chancellor, Delhi University.
